Assignment 1 (5 marks)

1.

The real estate industry often suffers from disorganized and manual record keeping. Property agencies frequently rely on fragmented spreadsheets or disconnected communication channels to track listings and client requests

2.

Real Estate Agents

Renters

Property owners

3.

The lack of a centralized automated and searchable database

4.

Scalability: What starts as a mini project can easily grow

Security: Real estate systems handle sensitive client data and final transaction records. Java offers string memory management and built in security features to prevent data corruption and unauthorized access
